REDS NEARING DNIEPER RIVER DEFENSE LINE

Nazis Reported Rushing Reserves Into Kharkov Front But Advance Continues

2,000 ENEMIES KILLED

London, Aug. 25.—(P)—The Red army continued today to hammer away at the off-balance Germans retreating from Kharkov, and a Soviet communiqué announced new successes all along the line as the Russian forces drove toward Poltava, 75 miles to the southwest and little more than halfway to the Nazis' Dnieper river defense line. The war bulletin—broadcast from Moscow—said the Nazis, exhausted by the battle for Kharkov, were rushing reserves into the line but in spite of this the Red army advanced both south and west of the city, killing 2,000 Germans and disabling 25 tanks in sharp fighting. Northwest of the city other units of the Russian army captured several villages.

The communiqué indicated that the German retreat from Kharkov was reaching the proportions of a rout with the Nazi troops abandoning considerable stocks of war material and armored equipment. (The German high command said the "big battle of defense in the east continues with unabated ferocity," but insisted that Soviet attacks collapsed. The Nazi communiqué, broadcast from Berlin and recorded by The Associated Press, said 262 Red army tanks and 95 planes were destroyed yesterday.)

German losses in armored equipment and planes were reported running high as the Nazi recklessly expended their strength in a vain effort to stem the Russian surge. The communiqué said that on Monday alone the Red army had destroyed 77 tanks and 106 planes in fighting on all fronts. The Kharkov area continued to (Turn to Page Seven)

Communications In South Italy Raided

BY NOLAND NORGAAARD
Allied Headquarters in North Africa, Aug. 25.—(P)—Allied air squadrons—significantly meeting no opposition from Axis fighters—hammered communications in southern Italy again yesterday, including a block-buster assault near Naples last night, and left an Italian cruiser afire off the south coast, headquarters announced today.

Dive-bombers, fighter-bombers and night bombers swept out to the attacks, and depleted Axis air forces refused battle for the second successive day. The only air opposition Monday was against Liberators from the Middle East which raided Bari, in southeastern Italy.

Four Allied planes were missing from all attacks, headquarters reported. The only opposition encountered was by a Beaufighter which blew up and sank a schooner off the Italian coast off Rome.

Kane, Aug. 25.—(P)—The story of the rescue of two children found waist deep in a bog-like tar pit and the escape of a third was told today as three young sisters recovered in a hospital.

The three, Violet Pontius, 6, Dorothy, 8, and Shirley, 9, broke through the hardened surface of the pit near an abandoned chemical plant last night as they started to walk across it. Dorothy, walking behind the other two, managed to free herself

Thousands of Classrooms To Be Without Teachers This Fall

Military Services and War Jobs Are Taking Many Instructors

MAY BE OVER 25,000

BY CHARLES MOLONY
Washington, Aug. 25.—(P)—Thousands of classrooms will be closed and others will be consolidated when school opens this fall because of a teacher shortage. The military services and war jobs are taking them.

A recent check by the National Education Association showed 75,000 fewer teachers than usual for this time of year had been signed up by the country's elementary and high schools. Benjamin W. Frazier, U. S. Education office analyst, expressed belief in an interview that even late sign-ups would leave a shortage of perhaps 15,000 to 25,000. He warned there almost certainly would be a "substantial" increase over last year's 13,000 classroom closings.

Board Rejects Lewis Bid For Pay Increases

Washington, Aug. 25.—(P)—The War Labor Board has rejected John L. Lewis' second bid for pay for his United Mine Workers.

The board voted 8 to 4 against a provision in a contract between the UMW and the Illinois Coal Operators Association whereby the miners would receive $1.25 a day additional to cover their underground travel time. Labor members of the board cast the dissenting vote.

WLB sources said the board made the decision yesterday. It approved other provisions of the contract, including one which permits payment of time and a half for the eighth hour in any day. The miners are now on a seven hour productive day. This excludes travel time.

By the time the train reached the children and tossed branches to them, the girls were up to their chests. Pulled from the morass, the youngsters were rushed to Community hospital. All three were reported in good condition today, although suffering from the effects of inhaling tar fumes.

JAPS MAKING LAST STAND AT SALAMAUA

Spokesman For Gen. MacArthur Claims Progress On Both Flanks of 750-Mile Battle Arc

PUSHING TO BAIROKO

Allied Headquarters in the Southwest Pacific, Aug. 25.—(P)—The thunder of artillery, firing from the New Georgia jungle on Japanese making a last stand at Bairoko and from New Guinea mountain ridges on other Japanese in a last stand at Salamaua, accented the fact today that the offensive remains firmly in Allied hands.

As the current drive which opened June 30 neared the end of the second month, a spokesman for Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported progress today on both flanks of the 750-mile-long battle arc.

On New Georgia, American jungle troops who captured the Munda airfield Aug. 5, have succeeded in pushing through harassing enemy patrols barring the way to Bairoko, 12 miles north, and have brought up artillery to blast away at the Japanese garrison holding that Kula Gulf harbor.

On New Guinea, where Allied troops have the Salamaua airfield almost within their grasp, Australian troops advanced north of the Francisco river, while mountain artillery behind them shelled the defenders.

These troops crossed the river Monday at a point only two miles west of the air strip.

Woman Slain On Street In Camden, N. J.

Camden, N. J., Aug. 25.—(P)—Four bullets ended the life of a well-dressed 42-year-old woman on a crowded sidewalk last night and the fifth, fired through the head of her 52-year-old male companion, left him critically wounded today in a hospital.

The woman, Capt. James Mulligan of the Camden county detective division said, was Mrs. Mary Mazzio of Camden and the man Louis L. Sirolli of Elm, N. J., a stationary engineer with three grown children.

Mulligan said Mrs. Mazzio died almost instantly, face downward in the gutter, and Sirolli, holding members of a crowd outside the Camden-Philadelphia high speed line terminal at bay with a pistol, stuck the muzzle in his mouth and fired upward.

A crumpled note in Sirolli's pocket, the detective said, was addressed to "the police" and read in part:

"For 20 years I've been mixed up with the wrong woman. I plan to do something and I hope I don't cause you any trouble."

Detroit Looks For Sensation In Spy Cases

Two Countesses Among Four Women Being Held By The F. B. I.

"DANGEROUS ALIENS"

Detroit, Aug. 25.—(P)—Detroit prepared today for expected new sensations from an alleged spy plot hatched against this and other American munitions centers but which back-fired on its perpetrators in Nazi Germany.

Four women, among them two identified in Federal Bureau of Investigation records as countesses, and a man were held here by the FBI while a second, a member of the American Merchant Marine, remained in FBI custody in New York.

Two of the women, both arrested as "dangerous enemy aliens," were not identified by the FBI. Authorities, however, said one was a member of a prominent Detroit family. The FBI said she was born in Berlin, held the title of countess and had lived here several years.

The other "countess," beautiful Grace Buchanan-Dineen, 34-year-old cosmopolitan with a wide social acquaintanceship, was held in $50,000 bond on a charge of giving war information to Germany.

It was she, the FBI said, who, when discovered in her activities cooperated with the federal authorities to the end that the German espionage got only the information which this government "desired". FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover said army and navy intelligence scrutinized all her transmissions.

MASS RIOTING IN DENMARK IS UNCURBED

Thousands of Anti-Nazi Demonstrators Parade With American Flags At Odense

SABOTAGE SPREADING

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
German armies retreating in Russia, nightmare wreckage in Berlin, and thousands of anti-Nazi demonstrators parading with American flags in Denmark—these highlighted a composite picture of foreboding for Adolf Hitler today.

Swift RAF Mosquito bombers raided Berlin for the second successive night, the British air ministry announced, and the Nazis admitted "nuisance" thrusts at the capital.

Radio France quoted the German underground station "Atlantique" as saying at least 73,000 Berlin residents were left homeless as a result of the RAF's heavyweights attack 24 hours earlier.

In London, Hitler's appointment of Heinrich Himmler, chief of the dead Gestapo, as German minister of the interior was interpreted as a move to keep the home front in line and prevent a sequel to Germany's collapse at the end of World War I in 1918.

Swiss dispatches from Berlin, hinting at the growth of an anti-Nazi movement inside Germany, said Himmler's elevation was "a warning to all wishing to start new political trends."

Strict German censorship still prohibited transmission of news on (Turn to Page Seven)

BULLETIN

London, Aug. 25.—(P)—RAF Mosquito squadrons struck again at Berlin last night in a quick follow-up to the devastating raid by Britain's heavy bombers the previous night and found fires still burning in the city, which was half obscured by smoke columns but dimly lighted in some areas by the glare of hundreds of searchlights thrown up by the Nazis.

London, Aug. 25.—(P)—RAF Mosquito bombers stabbed at targets in Berlin last night on the heels of a saturation assault by a fleet of heavy bombers Monday night, the air ministry announced today.

None of the fast wooden bombers were lost as they put Berlin under air raid for the second successive night. Other planes laid mines in German waters.

The Nazis acknowledged "nuisance raids" on the capital. (Turn to Page Seven)

"Surrender Better Now Than Later," Roosevelt Warns

Chief Executive Lauds Canadian-American Friendship And Extols Part the Dominion is Playing In World Conflict

THOUSANDS OF CHEERING CANADIANS HEAR TALK

Ottawa, Aug. 25.—(P)—President Roosevelt told the people of Canada today that if Hitler and his generals had attended the Quebec war conference, they would have realized that "surrender would pay them better now than later."

The American chief executive came here directly from the war council meetings at Quebec, which ended yesterday, to extend a virtual invitation to the enemy in Europe to lay down its arms now, in an address from the archway of the Peace Tower in the main parliamentary buildings of the dominion.

The United States chief executive talked of Canadian-American friendship and extolled the part the dominion is playing in the war. Not a hint did he drop as to the specific matters of war strategy upon which he and Prime Minister Churchill of Britain had agreed in Quebec.

"But, in due time," he asserted, "we shall communicate the secret information of the Quebec conference to Germany, Italy and Japan. We shall communicate this information to our enemies in the only language their twisted minds seem capable of understanding."

"Sometimes I wish that that great master of intuition, the Nazi leader, could have been present in spirit at the Quebec conference. I am thoroughly glad he was not there in person. If he and his generals had known our plans they would have realized that discretion is still the better part of valor and that surrender would pay them better now than later."

The talks in Quebec, the president said, deal constructively with a determination to "achieve history in the shortest possible time" and with "an essential cooperation with our great and brave fighting Allies."

Some of his listeners thought they detected there a veiled reference to Russia, since the president and Churchill had spoken at Quebec of a possible tripartite conference in which the Soviet government would be represented.

It is no secret, Mr. Roosevelt said, that there was much talk of the post-war world at Quebec, but he failed to go into any details. Dramatically, for the hundreds of thousands of Canadians of French descent, the chief executive had a closing paragraph in their own language.

From a platform carpeted with red plush, Mr. Roosevelt surveyed an audience assembled on the green lawn in a square enclosed on three sides by majestic parliamentary buildings. He was introduced by Prime Minister MacKenzie King of Canada.

Thousands of cheering persons, from the humble folk of Ottawa to the highest dignitaries of state, church and local government, heard his words. So did other millions around the world to whom the address was broadcast.

Canadians and Americans have fought side by side, Mr. Roosevelt said, in a war violently forced upon them "by criminal aggressors who measure their standards of morality by the extent of the (Turn to Page Seven)

LEND-LEASE TO RUSSIA OVER TWO BILLIONS

Report Assures People of Axis-Controlled Areas They Need Not Fear Surrender

POINTS OUT OBJECTIVES

Washington, Aug. 25.—(P)—President Roosevelt asserted today that except for the responsible Fascist leaders "the people of the Axis need not fear unconditional surrender to the United Nations."

In a report placing total lend-lease aid at nearly $14,000,000,000, the president again promised the feeding of the people of liberated areas and declared the Allies "are striking hard and ready to strike harder" to attain complete victory.

"The people of Axis controlled areas may be assured," he said, "that when they agree to unconditional surrender they will not be trading Axis despotism for ruin under the United Nations."

"The goal of the United Nations," he said, "is to permit liberated peoples to create a free political life of their own choosing and to attain economic security. These are two of the great objectives of the Atlantic charter."

Apollo got the Glory ...the Vitamins did the work

Fortunately, we do not have to depend upon the whims of an Apollo for safeguards for our health. Science has demonstrated over and over again that sensible living and proper nutrition are the first steps toward a robust body and an alert mind.

The entire nation looks eagerly for news about Science's continuous studies of vitamins. One fact that has been determined is that the B Complex vitamins are the least plentiful in the foods that come to your table. Physicians say that your body is quick to feel a B Vitamins deficiency, but unharmed if you get more than enough.

The home of Budweiser is one of the world's biggest sources of B Complex vitamins. They are contained in brewer's yeast, which we supply to leading pharmaceutical manufacturers. From them, our armed forces and our civilian population obtain millions of B Complex vitamin units to supplement the daily diet when necessary. The perfection of this vitamin-rich yeast is one more result of laboratory and research work that has helped to produce the world's most popular beer.

Enlistments Sought For Overseas Duty

The U. S. Army Officer Procurement Division has recently established in Warren a local committee for securing enlistment of men between the ages of 38 and 50 for overseas administration in the following classifications:

Corps of Engineers: Heavy construction, heavy material engineering, equipment maintenance.
Surgeon General: Sanitary engineer, biochemist, bacteriologist, nutrition officer.
Provost Marshal General: Military government officer.
Signal Corps: Radio engineers, electronics.
Transportation: Industrial traffic officer.

In general, applicants must be men of some years of experience in their special field; must be in fair physical condition; college graduate and earnings in civil life at least $5,000 per year. In some categories, knowledge of a foreign language is essential.

A complete list of open categories and description of requirements is available at the office of the borough secretary, Municipal building. Applications may be filed at this office and will then be sent on to Pittsburgh, from where the application will then be handled. It is the hope of the committee that any person who feels he may qualify will make his application at the Municipal building.

Huge Amount Of Scrap Will Swell Totals

With the sale of the Mayburg Chemical plant for the sum of $77,000 to a group which is dismantling and scrapping the plant, Forest county promises to lead the state in its coming drive. The larger part of the scrap is going out through the Forest county scrap office and per capita Forest county should lead the state with its figures. There is an immense amount of scrap in the plant and estimates place the steel at about 15,000 tons and the copper at over 200 tons. Most of the vats in the big plant were copper lined and this copper is in excellent condition.

Warren county will benefit somewhat by the wrecking of the plant as the railroad from Sheffield to the plant is being taken up and as there are nine miles of rails and several bridges to be torn out this will provide some heavy scrap. Chairman Wylie T. Corbett, of the Scrap Division has this all under his watchful eye and he plans on keeping this county near the top in salvage operations.

M. H. Hetrick, of the U. S. Ordnance Department will be in the city soon and with Mr. Corbett will make a tour of the county where there is much heavy scrap yet to be secured. Several old logging road locomotives at Sheffield are expected to receive attention and they will add greatly to the weight of scrap to be taken out of the county.

James G. Lewis, of the Conservation Division is in the city and will be here for several days. He is making a tour of all meat markets and slaughter houses in an effort to speed up the conservation of fats. The need of fats for the manufacture of munitions is imperative and most communities are falling down in this essential feature and a speed up is needed.

Airport Is Busy Spot With Many Taking Flying Lessons

There has been a great deal of activity at the Warren Airport in the past few weeks and students are regularly passing tests for promotions in their chosen branch of service.

Among those taking flying instruction and ground school training in preparation for entry into the Women's Auxiliary Ferry Squadron are Jane Alcorn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Alcorn; Patricia Redfield, daughter of Mrs. V. A. Redfield, and Barbara Burwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anson Burwell, all of Oil City.

Shirley Thompson and Adeline Russo, of Warren, are completing their training preparatory to making WAFFS applications. Martha McFarland and Mrs. Connie Casey, also local, made solo flights some time ago and are now logging time required for their licenses. D. P. Clark, of Titusville, is continuing his commercial instructor's training, having completed written and flight exams for private certificate.

Inspector L. W. Choate came from Pittsburgh August 20 to give flight tests and written exams for both private and commercial certificates. Mary Craft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Craft, who has proved a capable pilot, took both tests for private license.

Philip Hanna, who did his first work here and then gained experience at other fields, returned to take his instructor's training and passed his finals for that rating. Jack Katon, Warren Stone, Alexander Flick, of Warren, and Pvt. Melvin Barron, took their tests for private licenses. Marshall Mathis, considered one of the best ground school instructors in the country and in complete charge of all such work for the past six years, continues this instruction at the airport under the direction of the King Air Service, CAA-approved flight and ground school. William Maler, former student and since an experienced instructor of both American and British students, is giving that work.

Many of the fighter and bomber pilots from this immediate vicinity were recruited and trained in elementary flying by the staff of the local school with the generous help of the Warren County Federation of Clubs. Likewise, many of the instructors trained through the local WTS in the past two years were recruited and trained by the field personnel, with the aid of CAA and WTS. A great deal of credit is due Mrs. Helen M. Walker in recruiting and instruction of these former classes.

Manager "Slip" King, reporting on activities, makes the statement: "With our 25 years of aviation experience and with nearly three years experience in government contract flying, it is our desire and aim to continue teaching students to fly in order that they may, through such training, take their place in some part of the war program. As the age requirements for women ferry members is now 18 to 35 years and the total flying time required is 35 hours, we hope to see many other girls in the community become interested in flying."

ROYAL ARCANUM MEETING

At the regular meeting of Conewango Council No. 115, Royal Arcanum, held in the S. E. of A. hall Tuesday evening one candidate was initiated by the new degree team. The duplicate charter to replace the one lost will be presented at a special meeting to be held September 28, instead of the 14th, as formerly announced. Games were played and refreshments served after the business session.

GOOD PROGRESS MADE

Work is going forward in good shape on the retaining wall being put in place on the river bank at the plant of the Struthers-Wells Company. Pouring of concrete is under way and it is expected that the work will all be completed by the time the fall rains start and the river becomes high. The flood wall will protect the buildings of the company located between Pennsylvania avenue, west and the river.

NEARING COMPLETION

Work on the two big smoke stacks at local plants here is progressing well and is fast nearing an end. The stack at the Warren Water Company which had 25 feet torn off and replaced is nearly completed and the big concrete stack being built by the Rust Construction Company at the Sherwood Refinery is also nearly finished. This latter job has attracted much attention as the stack is a huge one towering high over the old brick stack formerly used at the plant.

BUILDING ALL ENCLOSED

The new Fourth ward fire station is now all completely enclosed and yesterday the contractors were tarring the roof on the building. The plumbing and electrical wiring are both in place ready to attach fixtures when that stage is reached. It will be possible to install the apparatus and occupy the new station about October 1st. The structure is neat appearing and will make a modern and comfortable station house for Engine Company No. 3.

ANOTHER NEW STAMP

The Postoffice Department has announced another new stamp to be placed on sale September 28. The central subject is a reproduction of a French flag and it is one of the series of stamps paying homage to the United Nations.

TO NOMINATE OFFICERS

Officers for the ensuing six-months term will be nominated at the semi-monthly meeting of Kosuth Encampment No. 58, to be held in I. O. O. F. hall Thursday evening, and it is expected there will be a large attendance.

DATA IS REQUIRED

With the opening of the Public Schools only a short time away parents are requested to keep in mind that children entering school for the first time must have certain data with them. Certificates of vaccination and birth certificates or material showing birth date must be on hand.

CROP IS BIG ONE

Jay Pees, of the Department of Forests and Waters gave it as his opinion that snakes were not as plentiful this summer as in other years when he was queried relative to the matter. Reports of killing snakes in this section have caused many to think the snake crop is a large one. Mr. Pees, who has been engaged in forestry work for years states that he has never seen a rattlesnake in the woods and has never killed one. However Dick Check, George Norris and Claude Hanson, of this city, have made many forays into the snake country this summer. They hunt the rattlers and have to date killed 99 of the big fellows. They extract the venom, boil out the fat and tan the hides. They have a rare collection of snake stories and can spin a yarn with the best of them.

Air Forces To Recruit Youths Here

The Army Air Forces Recruiting Office located at 303 Second Ave., Warren, Pa., will again be open Thursday and Friday evenings of this week between the hours of 7:00 and 9:00 p. m. This office is maintained by the Civil Air Patrol, Squadron 53 and officers will be on hand to answer questions and explain this program in general to any and all interested.

Young men between the ages of 17 and 27 are especially invited to stop at this office to find out what the Army Air Forces has to offer and to get the facts and details on how to become an Aviation Cadet. Married men can also join the Army Air Forces if their dependents are self supporting. Any applicant calling at this office can bring his parents, wife or anyone else along who might be interested. There is absolutely no obligation.

The Civil Air Patrol officers interviewed fourteen applicants last week at their new recruiting headquarters. Ten applicants were examined at the Elks Club by the Army Air Forces Examining Board last Friday and of these ten six were accepted by the AAF. This is a very good average and speaks well for the Warren county boys. It is hoped that another large group will be available and ready for examination when the Examining Board from Erie again comes to Warren in about a week.

Warren Boys Meet In Sicily After Battles

Mr. and Mrs. Heath Ferrie, Coneywango avenue extension, have recently had three letters from their son, Sgt. Pat W. Ferrie, written in Sicily.

He is serving there with a Military police company and writes that there is plenty of work to be done. He mentions, also that he has been on the watch for Chaplain Edward Rogers, of Warren, but hasn't seen him so far. However, he knows the Warren Minister is nearby and hopes to be so fortunate as to locate him. "Directed his outfit over and intersections more than once in Africa," he continues. "They are doing great work."

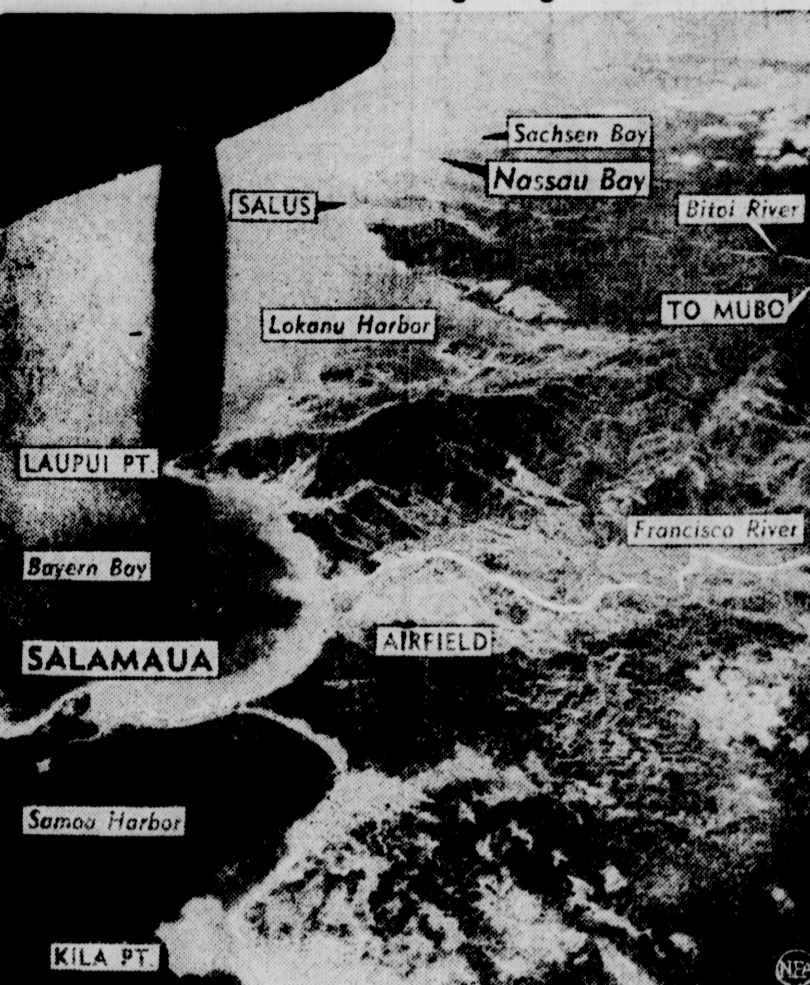

Sgt. Ferrie reports seeing Bill Scott from Warren and several other boys from the home state.

His parents are very proud of the citation recently given the young sergeant's company for commendable performance. Signed by the provost marshal, Ralph C. Cooper, the citation is for action in the first phase of the Tunisian campaign and is for the M. P. Company's "substantial contribution to the success of the operation against the forces of Rommel. You have speeded the efforts of our supply and combat units by your unceasing efforts in the regulation of great volumes of traffic and in gathering and disseminating information to commanders and troops. That there were no major traffic tie-ups during the withdrawal from Gafsa-Feriana and Sbeitla-Kasserine, is testimony to the success of your efforts. Those that were on the Tebessa-Kalaa Djerdja road on the night of February 21-22 know that the Military Police pushed through the Regal Artillery in time to turn the tide of battle on that historic morning at Thala."

LADDERS ARE HERE

The last shipment of materials for the Fire Department has been received here and the emergency equipment is now in shape for use with the exception of ladders to be used in towing the emergency pumps. The shipment consisted of four ladders for use with the emergency pumps. Other material is expected but it will consist of coats, stretchers, etc., for the first aid groups. Warren is the first town in the state to receive its quota of supplies for the fire department and auxiliary firemen.

The tire valves saved for an emergency may not be of use if their rubber seats become dry and hard. Soften this rubber by dunking it in hydraulic brake fluid.

Mary Church Coming Soon To Local YW

Miss Mary Church, who is soon to succeed Mrs. J. H. West as general secretary of the local Young Women's Christian Association, expects to assume her new duties early in September.

A native of Titusville, she was graduated from Vassar College in 1934, from Indiana State Teachers' College in 1935 and had one year of teaching experience in schools of Sarasota, Fla.

Since 1936 she has been engaged in YWCA work and came here from the Lima, O., Association, tendering her resignation to become general secretary in Warren.

Other associations in which she has served as girls work and acting secretary, in Bradford and Titusville, recommended her highly to the local post.

U. S. Engineers To Be Enlisted At Erie Armory

Attention is called to announcement that Capt. Harry Hotchkiss, of Baltimore, Md., will be at the state armory in Erie on Thursday and Friday of this week for the purpose of recruiting army engineers. Announcement is made at the same time that no more draftsmen are needed at present.

Air-borne engineers are stationed at air bases and four fields have been designated for such basic training. They are Westover Field, Mass.; Gieger Field, Wash.; March Field, Calif.; and Claiborne Field in Louisiana.

Staff Sgt. M. Stauffer assists in the recruiting in Erie when Capt. Hotchkiss cannot be present.

No Cut Soon In Liquor Price In Pennsylvania

We thirsty folk who have been counting whiskey bottles instead of sheep while thinking that on August 29 there would be price cuts in the price of the stuff under the OPA ruling better go back to counting sheep. There won't be any price cut according to Fred Gelder, head of the Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board.

Fred hasn't a word to offer about whiskey but does sort of intimate that prices on Cuban and Mexican gin might be in for a little shuffling but that won't be until a new price list is issued.

Liquor and wine prices have been frozen at the prices of March 1942 but OPA officials said that a provision for pricing new brands on the basis of the "most comparable product" provided a loophole.

But Gelder comments "as far as Pennsylvania is concerned it wasn't up and it won't be down. We don't know of any brands that were selling without approval of OPA."

County Boys In Crack Naval Drill Regiment

Carl F. Russo, writing from the Great Lakes, Ill., naval training station, reminds that the Warren county boys away from home "really enjoy reading the Times-Mirror" and would like their friends to hear about some of the things they are doing. He says:

First of all, we're the best drilling company of our regiment. We won the "E" flag for regimental drill competition. There are about 135 men in a company, 8 companies in a battalion and 4 battalions, or 32 companies, in a regiment.

We are also in the "Hall of Fame"—that is, we had nearest perfect inspection for five consecutive weeks. They have barracks inspection daily and a personal inspection on Saturday. There aren't more than 10 companies in Great Lakes that have won the "Hall of Fame". We were awarded the "rooster flag"—that's the emblem for good inspection. This rooster is a tradition here.

There are fellows here from Pittsburgh, New Castle, Altoona, Johnstown, DuBois and a hill billy from Virginia—in our company. From Warren county are the following: Beryl B. Burlingame, Charles C. Crockett, George A. Edmiston, Charles A. Kelly, Lawrence M. Park, Charles Otto Peterson, Carl Thomas Russo, James L. Schmolsky, Jr., Herman Leo Seth, Donald E. Sharp, Manfred N. Smith, Gerald B. Stanton, Frank J. Vreuna, Jr., Ralph H. Wagner, Jr., and L. H. Thompson.

We'll be home to march in the Labor Day parade, if you have one in town.

F. Branstrom, Troop Committee Chairman, following a recent meeting of the Troop Board of Review.

These represent the educational achievement of the Scouts of the Troop during their coming campaign experience at Camp Olmsted this summer.

Cement Flows On Bridge Pier During Night

Under the bright glare of electric lights the pouring of concrete about the second pier of the Hickory street bridge proceeded throughout the night and workmen were still on the job today. Work of preparing for the pouring of concrete has been under way for several months passed and finally a large quantity of rock was placed about the base of the piers of the bridge and this is now being affixed in place with concrete. When completed the arrangement is expected to defy floods and ice and render the pier safe for many years.

A pontoon bridge was constructed from the western tip of the island to the pier and along this a conduit was laid. Trucks on which concrete mixers were backed to the edge of the island and the mixer is dumped into a hopper and then pumped through the conduit to the pier where it is put into place on top of the rip rap of stone.

Once started the pouring of concrete cannot stop until the whole job about each pier is completed. This necessitates a continuous operation night and day until all of the concrete is in place at each pier. Pouring was started on the job Monday morning.

BROUGHT BOMBS HOME

Fire Chief D. G. Kropp, who has just returned from the State Fire School held at Lewistown, Pa., brought home with him some most interesting exhibits for those who are interested in various types of bombs. He has the bombs on display at his office at the Central Fire Station. He also has quite an assemblage of materials that might be used in sabotaging industrial plants. Many of these materials were offered for sale in stores until Charles Clark, of the State Council of Defense stepped in, investigated and had the sale stopped.

SALVAGE REMINDERS

BROWN WASTE PAPER SHORTAGE IS CRITICAL

A serious waste paper shortage exists, due to heavy war demands for paper products. WPA officials are urging the public to help relieve the shortage by saving all forms of brown waste paper—brown bags and containers, old brown wrapping paper—for conversion into necessary military equipment. Your used brown paper will help make blasting kegs, airplane parts, and other war weapons. Flatten out boxes, stack loose brown paper into bundles. TURKEY TALE
In thirteen short weeks we'll be working on the Thanksgiving menu, and most folks who can afford them, will be trying to figure ways and means to have the usual turkey on the bill of fare.
According to word from Washington all turkeys for the next month and a half are going to those far-sighted housekeepers, the buyers for the U. S. military overseas requirements. They already have holiday meals for soldiers planned. It will take 10,000,000 pounds to give every overseas serviceman his Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's Day turkey dinner.
The ban on civilian buying of turkeys will be lifted as soon as the 10,000,000 figure is reached, which is expected to be soon after Oct. 1. There is a large supply of turkey this year. You will have plenty of time between October 1 and whatever Thanksgiving day the Presidents decides on, to get your turkey.
It probably will be necessary to order it a bit ahead of time because there will be a great demand. A black market flurry of turkey-buying could upset the whole scheme. You must keep your eye on the ceiling price when you buy.
By October you should pay around 50 cents a pound for the best turkeys, weighing 18 to 22 pounds. Heavier turkeys will be slightly less. The ceiling price goes down about 3 cents between now and October.

WARREN COUNTY "WAR CONSCIOUS"
One occasionally hears the remark made that the people of Warren aren't "war conscious".
True, we in Warren County, do not see a lot of the business of war. Our streets and villages are not crowded with soldiers or sailors from nearby training camps. Our skies are not noisy with fighter planes and bombers. The weapons of war made in Warren County leave quietly and without fanfare. But that doesn't mean that we do not know there's a war going on.
There are few families in the county who do not have a direct, personal interest in this war, and its speedy termination. All one has to do is notice the Service Flags in the windows—some with three and four stars on them—to realize this. Many of these sons of Warren county are now in the thick of battle. They are using the weapons and ammunition we helped supply them with by the war bonds we purchased in the first and second war loans. Now these sons, brothers and husbands are in the attack. The slogan for the third war loan is "Back the Attack".

When the September drive is over, and the figures added up, there's little question in this corner as to the outcome.
Warren County is "war conscious"—plenty—when it comes to digging down for those dollars that can mean speedier victory for our boys.
The monthly report of each County Salvage Committee is the report the State Committee will have for our fighting men from each county when they return home and ask what the folks on the home front were doing to help win the war. These county by county reports are going to the State Historical Commission, which is writing a history of Pennsylvania in the war, as well as to the State Council of Defense. How will Warren county show up in this record?

Tomorrow will be a big day for the kiddies who patronize the playgrounds of the borough when the annual picnic-playfest will be held. Each neighborhood playground will have its own play day, starting at 1:30 o'clock. A glance at the program as printed in Tuesday's issue shows that those in charge have arranged a most interesting afternoon.

Another interesting and instructive program has been arranged for the Selectees who attend the Pre-Induction party at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow evening.

A pamphlet on canning tomatoes, deliberately designed for those who have never canned before, now is available from the Department of Agriculture.

One-third of the accidents occur in the kitchen, says a safety statistician. And they're placed on the table just as if they hadn't happened.

Japan won't be recognized by anyone after war—if our bomber crews have their way.

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON—The blueprint for a separate air force has been drawn.
I have this information from sources which there is no reason to doubt. While these sources would not go into details, it is hinted that the blueprint might not lead immediately (perhaps not even until after World War II) to a unified department of national defense with equal chiefs of staff for the Army, air and sea forces, but that it would elevate the air force chief to equal status with the Army chief of staff and commander in chief of the United States fleet.
The reasons given for the delay thus far in establishing a separate air force are:
(1) That until comparatively recent months, the United States air force didn't have the experience, personnel, or even equipment to assume its responsibilities as the third great independent cog in our war machine and that the powers that be wouldn't permit its formation until it could stand on its own feet.
(2) That the change wouldn't be made (and may not yet) until it's positive that it will in no way disrupt the effectiveness with which air forces have been operating.
(3) That for psychological reasons and the morale of all services involved, it has been thought best not to make the change while civilian controversies rages over its potential faults and benefits. (And there have been very few lulls in this critical storm.)
The greatest resistance to a separate air force has come from the Pacific, it is said, where Navy brass hats have been unbending in their opposition to any change in the present set-up.
Such resistance, even from minority groups, has been known before, result in blueprints being allowed to gather dust here until they become obsolete. It might happen in this case yet.

Hollywood Gossip

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—Frankenstein's monster, the werewolves, the gorilla and the wolf men have held the horror screen for several years now. Recently, as if to call the whole thing off in a blaze of terror and unconscious humor, we had "Frankenstein Meets the Wolf Man." But the thing won't be called off so easily—for now it's Jack the Ripper bowing in.
Jack was no nightmare of fiction. Jack did his stuff in London, back in 1888, and he gave Scotland Yard a headache, the memory of which still lingers in the archives.
On 20th's sound stages today, Jack doesn't look any more terrifying than Laird Cregar usually does. Cregar is playing the role in "The Lodger" without make-up other than the costuming of the day.
This Ripper killed six women within three months in Whitechapel, London, and left no tangible clues. His name became a household word all over the world during the brief time he devoted to murder, and it still survives. A novel based on his exploits, written by Mrs. Marie Belloc Lowndes 30 years ago, has had good sales ever since. The studio is using the title but has fallen back on research for its screenplay. Besides Cregar, the film has Merle Oberon, George Sanders (as the Scotland Yard-er), Sir Cedric Hardwicke and Sara Allgood.
BARRE LYNDON, young English writer ("The Amazing Dr. Clitterhouse," "The Man in Half Moon Street" and other chills) who did the screen play, found Jack a fascinating character. He dug up a wealth of information about him in his research, and we'll pass some of it along as a sort of preview to horror:
Six of his crimes were committed over a period of one mile. One woman he killed under the window of a sleeping policeman—another within 300 yards of two special constables who were watching for him. He drove more pedestrians off the streets of Whitechapel after dark (Barre Lyndon figures) than did the Nazi blitz—and Whitechapel was pasted by the Luftwaffe, Tavern-keepers went into the doldrums during the terror. People fell dead of fright with copies of London newspapers in their hands.

GEORGE BERNARD SHAW, wrote the dramatic critic, wrote vitriolic attacks on the sordidness and poverty of Whitechapel, arguing that the Ripper mercifully brought the wickedness of the district to the world's notice. The Ripper started a crime wave which kept the executioners busy for a year. He drove Sir Charles Warren, London's High Commissioner of Police, to resign for failure to capture him. Warren had resorted to bloodhounds—which got lost, providing comedy relief to a major terror.
Director John Brahm is using the "psychological horror" approach to the story. We'll know all about Jack from the beginning, but the other characters won't. Pardon us while we shiver!

If you are driving your automobile seldom nowadays, have the crankcase drained and refilled at least four to six times a year.

George Lott Fulfills Early Prophecies In an Unusually Delightful Piano Recital

Friends who gathered in the Woman's Club last evening for the "Victory Benefit" recital by George W. Lott remember well the days when "Bud" as a child and a very young student pleased many audiences with his unusual capacities for understanding writers' moods and a technique that was surprising in one so young. In this first appearance here in several seasons, however, they found no child or student, but an adult musician who has fulfilled the promise shown in those early days and has developed that greatest single asset, a sense of humor in both his playing and stage presence.

Almost 15 years ago to the day, on August 21, 1928, to be exact, a review of his first public recital at the age of twelve commended "the instinctive interpretation of moods and nuances" and "the ability to interpret another's thought". This ability to interpret remains his greatest musical asset. He takes the usual run-of-the-mill numbers and brings to his audience a new enjoyment in listening.

George does with Chopin what this writer has always thought should be done; stresses the beautiful melodies, subdues the delicate accompaniments so that these melodies become even more beautiful and forgets the crashing chords and "fire" mistakenly inserted by so many into these études, valse and fantasies. These things are essentially delicate music and are treated completely so by George. His playing of the Ballade in G

Minor was done in the same way, gay, light and happy and, as the title implies, as a ballad, and not as a heavy symphony.

Three movements of Beethoven's "Moonlight" Sonata were given the same excellent interpretation. Each received like treatment, particularly in the Myra Hess arrangement of "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring" in which the choral background was especially well done. Explaining that he preferred to call Rachmaninoff's Prelude in C Sharp Minor by the title "Bells of Moscow" and telling the audience something of the bells in the Kremlin, George's presentation was truly "bell-like" in its beauty.

Demonstrating that he also has "fire" when necessary, George played the familiar Malagena with, for him, a surprising abandon. He should always include one or two numbers of this type on his programs if only to demonstrate that he has the spirit necessary to play them.

Responding to many encores, among which were several of his own compositions, he left the audience with the definite feeling that it had had a thoroughly enjoyable evening, an ability which many an artist would give a lot to possess. His encores included "Gigue", a MacDowell arrangement of a 17th century French composer's dance; his own "Hills" and "English Country Dance" based on Grainger's "Country Gardens"; "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes"; and closed with Schubert's "Ave Maria".

Mary M. Andersen and Lt. Lloyd Porter Wed in Candlelight Church Ceremony

Sugar Grove, Aug. 25.—The Presbyterian church was the scene of a beautiful candlelight service Friday evening when Mary McQueney, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Andersen, of this place, became the bride of Lt. Lloyd LeRoy Porter, son of Mrs. Ella Porter, of Chancellers Valley. Rev. Carl Perrin performed the ceremony, for which Doris Engstrom played the traditional music.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length frock of white tulle with fitted bodice and full skirt, fingertip veil held with orange blossoms, and carried a gardenia decorated white prayer book. Mrs. Willard Munson, of Natchez, Miss., as matron of honor, wore wine tulle and velvet, with matching Juliet cap and silver sandals, and carried a colorful bouquet. A blue velvet bow decorated her hair and her rose petals were scattered from a white basket.

Kenneth Porter, of Syracuse, N. Y., was his brother's best man and ushers were Lt. Munson, of Natchez, and Ralph Beedle, of Chancellers Valley.

There were 72 guests for the reception which followed at the bride's home. These came from Detroit, Mich.; Syracuse, Chautauque, Jamestown, N. Y.; Trenton, N. J.; Natchez, Miss.; Pittsburgh, Erie, Corry, Warren, North Warren, and Chancellers Valley. Yellow and pink roses and gypsophila were flanked by gypsophila and satin streamers with rosebuds for the bride's table. Other guests were seated at small rosebud-centered tables and garden flowers were used throughout the house. Assisting the bride's mother were Mrs. Jennie Weiler, brood, Mrs. Ellen Wilson, Jane and Helen Abbott, Phyllis Mickelson and Kathryn Sands.

Directly after the reception, the couple left for a short trip, continuing on to the officer's new station at Tampa, Fla. Both the young people were graduated from the joint vocational school here. Later Mrs. Porter was graduated from Hoff's Business College and has been employed at Struthers-Wells. Lt. Porter has been in the Army Air Forces, serving overseas the past 11 months and returning to this country July 28 for a 30-day rest period from active service before reporting to Tampa.

Mrs. Donald Haggerty and Mrs. Ernest Andersen were hostesses for the rehearsal dinner at Pittsfield Inn, with places for 17. Others who entertained for the bride-elect were Mrs. Munson, at the home of her parents in Youngsville; fellow workers at Struthers-Wells office; group of friends at dinner at the Hotel Carver; Mrs. Bess Beedle and Mrs. Ralph Beedle at the former's home here.

Pastoral of Peace in Sicily

Peace has come to Sicily. The peasants have come down out of the hills to repair their homes and till their fields with nothing to fear except an occasional Axis air raid and with the confidence that they are once again free people. In this peaceful setting a Sicilian farmer threshes wheat in the manner of his forefathers, pitching it in the path of a huge stone pulled over the grain by the team of oxen.

Pros and All-Stars to Open 1943 Football Season With Game at Evanston Tonight

BY DAVE HOFF
Evanston, Ill., Aug. 25.—(P)—It's kickoff time for the 1943 football season. And the college All-Stars and a professional team—the Washington Redskins—are providing the usual dramatic and colorful start tonight as they have for the last 10 years.

It's a new setting, Dwyer Stadium on the Northwestern University campus, and a smaller crowd, although a sellout throng of 50,000, that will herald the opening of the new campaign. The game was moved here from Chicago's Soldier Field, site of the previous last year's contest—but it's the same big show.

This is the football season preview—the first two teams of the

Looks Like Dandy Season For Water Fowl For Sportsmen With Supply of Ammunition

Harrisburg, Aug. 25.—(P)—Pennsylvania sportsmen who take to the field when the migratory bird season opens Sept. 1 will find good shooting, the game commission predicted today—if they have a left-over supply of ammunition.

Director Seth Gordon said, "It looks like a dandy season for water fowl since reports from the big breeding grounds in Canada are very encouraging."

"Ammunition will be scarce," Gordon asserted, "although the federal government has promised to release a limited amount."

The director said he expected a considerable decrease this year from the 640,000 hunters licensed in 1942.

Rails and gallinules, found in the marshy areas of the Delaware river and Lake Erie, may be hunted from Sept. 1 to Nov. 30 with a combined daily limit of 15. Sora may be bagged between the same dates and coots between Sept. 25 and Dec. 2, with a daily

Both Ends of Double-Header Tonight Will Give New York Yanks 12 Consecutive Games

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The heat is on the New York Yankees today.

Before you take another look at the baseball standings, or perhaps the weather report, give us time to explain that it isn't pennant pressure but the pressure of pride which is bearing heavily on the American League champions.

They need to win both ends of a doubleheader at Detroit today to win the seven-game series and extend their record performance to victory in 12 consecutive games.

This is a feat that, so far as historians know, never was accomplished even by the famous Yankees of other years.

The Yankees got themselves into a hole by losing a doubleheader to the Tigers Sunday and until now they never have been able to work themselves out of it. They won a single game Monday and yesterday they took the first half of a double bill 2-1 with Spurgeon (Spud) Chandler pitching four-hit ball for his 16th triumph against three defeats.

But the Tigers, who year in and year out are the toughest foe in the league for the Yanks, came back magnificently to win the second game 3-1 as Virgil (Fire) Trucks pitched a three-hitter. He would have had a shutout except for Nick Etten's 13th homer in the fifth inning.

The Yankees have the only record-breaking streak now in existence in the American league. The Philadelphia Athletics had one of a different kind going until last night, but, after losing the first part of a doubleheader to the Chicago White Sox 6-5 for their 20th straight setback, the A's finally submitted to the law of averages and won the second game 6-1.

Washington strengthened its grasp on second place by beating the St. Louis Browns 10-4 as Clayton Heafner pitched four-hit ball and Stan Spence and Bob Johnson led a 14-hit attack with homers. Spence also hit two doubles and a single.

The Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians divided, with Cleveland capturing the first game 5-2 and the Red Sox surging back to a 7-0 shutout with Heber (Dick) Newsome producing a two-hit masterpiece.

In the National League the St. Louis Cardinals edged out the Boston Braves 1-0 when Stan usual tripled a run home in the tenth inning to decide what had been a spectacular, scoreless pitching duel between Mort Cooper and Al Javery. It was the 18th victory against seven defeats for Cooper and tough luck for Javery, who had officiated at the only two triumphs the Braves have scored over St. Louis all season.

Truett (Rip) Sewell was given his 19th success against five defeats as the Pittsburgh Pirates took a slugging session from the Brooklyn Dodgers 9-6 in a twilight game abbreviated to six innings by darkness. The Dodgers outbatted the Buccaneers 16-13 and Sewell failed to finish.

A two-run ninth-inning homer by Buster Maynard gave the New York Giants an 8-7 decision over the Chicago Cubs in the first game of a doubleheader, but Ed Hanyzewski pitched a four-hitter to win the nightcap 6-1 for the Bruins and Cincinnati completed a sweep of its series at Philadelphia with a 4-2 triumph in a night game.

Corry Player Is Called For Examination

According to the Corry Journal, Walter Swantek, catcher and general all-around utility player of the Merchants, goes to Buffalo tomorrow for his final physical examination and induction into the Army.

The paper goes on to say: "A small matter of guarantees is expected to add fuel to the flames in the fiery rivalry that is developing between the Merchants and Irvine in their playoff series for the district championship. . . . Sunday's ball game which was completed in one hour and twenty minutes, was the shortest by far that the Merchants have played this season. . . . The two teams left only seven runners stranded on the bases while the batters were hitting the first shortening the playing time of the game."

The Irvine Forge got the jump on the Corry Merchants in the first of a three-game series at Warren yesterday afternoon for the district championship when they pounded Russ Cassett for 12 hits and a 9-2 victory. The loss was the first of the season by the big right-hander to the locals' bitter rivals.

The Irvine victory was chalked up to too much Freddie Gagliardi. The chubby right-hander had everything yesterday as he set the Groupmen down in the first and second innings with a hopping fast ball and a sweeping curve. The Corry nine was able to manufacture but four hits in the first inning and the other was a scratch single in the fifth. The only other Corry batter to reach first base safely was Group who drew an Annie Oakley in the ninth.

Both teams played well night perfect baseball in the field with only one error being recorded, that coming in the eighth when Pep Young threw wild to first on an attempted double play.

Grid Officials Will Attend Rules Meeting

Changes in the 1943 interscholastic football rules will be explained to gridiron officials at a series of nine meetings planned by the Pennsylvania Interscholastic Athletic Association, according to a dispatch from Harrisburg.

Dr. Frank P. McGuire, PIAA commissioner on officials, will conduct the sessions. Revisions of rules for 1943 involve free kicks, fair catches, kicks from scrimmage which rebound and completed forward passes.

The conference for this area will be held at Erie Technical High school Wednesday, September 1st, and will be attended by Joe Massa and Joe Waples, of this city, both of whom expect to be busy officiating at games this season. They had a two-hour session with Coach J. B. Leidig at the high school last evening when changes in the rules were considered at length.

Outside officials will have charge of all games at Russell Field this season, and in this connection it is interesting to learn that no difficulty was experienced in completing the schedule with no cancellations.

All games will start at 2:30 o'clock, excepting in cases where teams may be booked for extra midweek games for the convenience of war workers, and these would start about four o'clock, so that fans coming off the three o'clock shift would have time to get to the field.

Industrial League Will Open Sept. 13

With the officers and all team captains present the Industrial Bowling League organized for the season at a meeting held in Babcock's barber shop last evening.

It was decided that the league will operate at Penn Bowling Center again this season and will open September 13th.

Among other decisions reached at the meeting, which was presided over by President Bernard Joy, were the following: The team averages were lowered to 860. Teams will be composed of six men, and if five are present for a match filling in of a sixth man will not be permitted. Where a team has less than five men the average will be 145.

RECEPTION CENTER TO SEE MAJOR LEAGUERS

New Cumberland, Aug. 25.—(P)—An army baseball team built around the State Reception Center's nine will play an exhibition game tomorrow against a combination of the New York Yankees and Giants and the Brooklyn Dodgers to promote war bond sales.

The New Cumberland team, undefeated by other service teams while piling up a record of 34 games won against four lost, was chosen as the nucleus of the service team because of its record, army officers said.

Baseball players who will bolster the team's line-up from other service lines include Capt. Hank Greenberg and Lt. Bernie Tebbetts of the Detroit Tigers, John Beazley and Enos Slaughter of the St. Louis Cardinals and Danny Murtaugh of the Philadelphia Phillies.

TURK GRID PLAYERS IN WEST CONFERENCE

Chicago, Aug. 25.—(P)—Western Conference football is going to have a Turkish blend this fall. First, the University of Iowa comes up with Ahmet M. Gokbora, son of a captain in the Turkish navy. Now the University of Illinois presents Mustafa Eris, son of a member of the Turkish assembly.

Both were amateur boxing champions in Turkey (Ahmet a welterweight and Mustafa a heavyweight); both are political science students, and both hail from Istanbul.

Oh yes, both are awaiting Nov. 6. That's the date of the Illinois-Iowa football game.

Very Slight
Progress On Stock Market

New York, Aug. 25.—(P)—Progress was slight in the stock market today although the uptrend begun in Tuesday's session continued.

Rubbers, rails and steels were in the forefront toward the fourth hour, and gaining ranged from small fractions to around a point. The advances apparently resulted from a drying up of selling rather than from any strong demand, and the tape idled intermittently. Some rails improved in a steady bond market. Commodities were higher.

On the upside were Goodrich, Goodyear, U. S. Rubber, U. S. Steel, Youngstown, Santa Fe, Southern Railway, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Chrysler, General Motors, General Electric, Consolidated Edison, and DuPont. Numerous blue chips crossed the tape only once or twice during the forenoon.

Curb trends paralleled those of the big board, with Cuban Atlantic sugar, Cities Service, Electric Bond & Share and International Petroleum drawing occasional support.

Teacher shortages are using these methods:

Increasing salaries, reinstating married women, replacing men with women, using college but non-teaching trained persons; hiring teachers from other school systems; increasing the number of pupils and courses per teacher; employing out-of-state teachers; recalling retired teachers; discontinuing courses; transferring teachers to subjects where the shortage is most acute.

The bomb damage in Berlin—where an armada of 700 RAF bombers and raiders dropped approximately 2,000 tons of explosives in a "Hamburg" assault Monday night—had returned RAF pilots had already told of a four square mile inferno raging in the heart of the German capital.

Dispatches from Stockholm reported a series of mass demonstrations against German occupation authorities in Denmark. At Odense, 5,000 persons carrying American, British and Danish flags marched through the streets in bold defiance of the Nazis, and similar parades took place in other Danish cities.

More than three German divisions, between 40,000 and 50,000 troops, were reported to have moved into the Danish capital, Copenhagen, from Norway as the Nazis sought to stamp out riots, strikes and spreading sabotage.

So bitter was feeling against the Nazis that girls going with German soldiers were disrobed and red swastikas smeared on their cheeks. Danish patriots plundered the shops of German sympathizers.

Half a dozen Danish cities, in addition to Copenhagen, were reported under a state of emergency as the "people's revolt" mounted and the Danish government refused to yield the administration of justice to the Germans, who have demanded that saboteurs be tried under Nazi law.

Radio France quoted the German underground station "Atlantique" as saying that at least 75,000 Berlin residents were homeless as a result of Monday night's attack.

American flying fortresses which rained destruction upon Regensburg Aug. 17 and continued on across the Alps to air bases in North Africa completed the homeward leg of the trip yesterday, losing their cargoes of bombs enroute upon an aircraft assembly plant in Bordeaux, France.

It said that the United States has sent more lend-lease planes to Russia than to any other country and that 57 percent of all goods sent there have been munitions such as airplanes, tanks, and guns.

The report also disclosed that the size of the American merchant fleet has increased 250 per cent since Pearl Harbor and is growing at the rate of five new ships every 24 hours.

The president in a letter transmitting the report as required by congress, declared that until the day of unconditional surrender the United Nations "will continue with the force of all their power to hit the enemy."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—(P)—A War Labor Board (WLB) decision on anthracite miners' demands for a wage increase is not expected for at least a week.

So many technical considerations are involved, board officials said, that they asked the United Mine Workers and the operators to designate two persons each who would be available for consultation beginning Thursday.

Cadet Nurses Being Sought In This Area

All student nurses now in nursing schools may apply immediately for membership in the newly created U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps, according to Dorothy T. Peterson, chairman, of the Warren County Nursing Council for War Service.

Miss Peterson says that student nurses can complete their training with all expenses paid in the school of nursing they now attend, if the school is receiving Federal funds under the Bolton Nurse Training Act. All nursing schools in this area have been sent application blanks and invited to submit plans for participation in the accelerated nurse education plan.

Under the war emergency program, the U. S. Public Health Service, Federal Security Agency, provides all-expense scholarships for qualified young women in schools of nursing. As members of the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps, student nurses gain national recognition for war service. They receive scholarships covering tuition, all fees, and living expenses. In addition, they receive personal allowances of from $15 to at least $30 a month depending on their rank.

Cadet nurses have the privilege of wearing attractive street uniform provided without cost. Wearing of the uniform is optional.

Those enlisting now in the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps will have allowable expenses paid retroactive to July 1, 1943. They will receive credit for study already completed and finish their education earlier. Students in training 80 days before the end of the war will complete their training at Government expense.

THE LONG NIGHT

By Eleanor Atterbury

Chapter 11
FOR hours after Bette and Sue tossed sleepless, restless in their narrow beds. Bette considered taking Sue into her confidence. Even of asking her to join in the hunt for Paul Porter. It would help having someone along.

But on second thought, Bette abandoned the idea. In case anything happened, it needn't cost the hospital two of its much-needed staff. And, she thought grimly, plenty might happen. No one had found any trace of Jap snipers near the Post. But no one had explained, satisfactorily, the sabotage of the bombers either. Still, she'd risk the danger. She'd have to if she was to find Paul Porter—and Scott.

Because it was her time off duty, Bette encountered no questions as she slipped out of the hospital shortly after dawn the next morning. If anyone saw her go, presumably he supposed she was headed for the Post's tiny recreation hall or the radio operator's office. Everyone collected in one spot or the other during his every free minutes to hear the news.

Just to anticipate any possible suspicion, Bette started toward the recreation rooms, turned only when she was safely out of sight of the hospital's main office window.

THEN, buttoning her warm topcoat high about her throat, and glad that she'd had the good sense to wear two pairs of heavy wool socks under her thick hiking boots, she struck off toward the stream bank.

the clear blue depths. There, lying motionless, side to side, a solid pack so thick they might easily have been mistaken for silt on the stream bed, were fish—hundreds of them. Trout, Bette decided after a moment. A fisherman's paradise. She smiled wryly. Surely somewhere along this stream, she'd find Paul Porter now.

She pushed on, scrambling over log jams and windfalls, going faster along the narrow graveled beaches and bars. But it was hard walking and for all her physical stamina, Bette was beginning to feel her leg muscles pull. But each bend in the river beckoned her farther. She found herself hurrying to round each next curve, feeling sure it would bring her some sign, some indication that she was near the Porter camp.

There were plenty of signs of animal life. A kingfisher started up out of a bit of brush. Once two does stood watching as she rounded a turn, came toward them up the river. As she drew nearer, they turned, bounded off into the woods. But no sign of the half-breed Porter.

THEN as the stream uncured around another sharp bend, Bette stopped short, her heart in her throat. There, not one hundred yards from her, was a grizzly bear.

For an instant she was too terrified to move. And in the next moment, good judgment caught up with her and she stood motionless as a carved image. The great beast made a sudden dash and pounced into the shallow water.

The fish? Of course! She should have thought of that. She touched the pistol no nurse had been without since the threat of Japs on the island. It would certainly be no protection against that great shaggy giant.

of the river. His eyes were sleepily vacant. Obviously he had no notion of Bette's existence—as yet. He just happened to walk directly toward her. Nearer and nearer Bette could see the water glistening on his wet coat. His heart pounded. Her breath came short. Nearer and still nearer. She flattened herself against the tree trunk, still not stirring, praying that the wind upstream would carry her scent up and away from that huge, shaggy enemy. So close now she could almost count the hairs in his ruff, see his sleepy little eyes. Still, he had no awareness of her existence.

As he drew abreast of where she stood, he stopped. Bette's muscles tensed for one last hopeless sprint—hopeless because she could never out-run him. Swinging his head lazily he looked down at the next pool. For seconds he stood there. Only by a premature effort did Bette hold back a scream. Then he plunged. So rapidly it seemed incredible for so large a body. Water in the pool splashed high. A moment later he stood up, a huge salmon in his mouth. When he'd eaten that, he moved on, down the stream.

For minutes after he was out of sight, Bette didn't move. Then it was to sink down on a flat rock at her feet, pant weakly. Never in her twenty-three years had she felt death brush by quite so close.

And now—she glanced up at the bank behind her—how to get back? It was foolish to risk going on meeting the grizzly's mate, for example. Nor did she want to follow him down the stream. Her only way would be—

Her glance caught, froze. There on the bank above her, by the crook of his arm, stood a man. So immobile he might have been part of the wild underbrush. This time Bette couldn't hold back a sharp scream.
